

TIME

ISSUE DATE:

May 20, 2013

In this issue:-

FEATURES

- Eyes on Syria – What happens if Assad’s nuclear-weapons stockpile gets in the wrong hands?
Plus: The Intervention Debate – Weighting both sides of U.S. involvement
- Helping Bangladesh’s Workers – Boycotting the country’s textile industry isn’t the answer
- Millennials’ Moment – They’re narcissistic, lazy, entitled and coming to our rescue
- States of Emergence – Overall growth in India may have slowed, but some regional economies are still thriving
- Protein Power – The science of proteomics promises a revolution in diagnostics and drugs

THE CULTURE

Summer Arts Preview

- Movies – Superman flies again, Woody Allen directs Louis CK, Sofia Coppola’s latest and returning casts galore
- Television – Final acts for Breaking Bad and Dexter; another serial-killer series, this one on the U.S.-Mexico border
- Books – Stephen King’s Joyland, Colum McCann’s TransAtlantic and Curtis Sittenfeld’s Sisterland
- Art – A bicycle exhibit in Portland, Ore. (of course), cartoons in Chicago and Dutch masters in Atlanta
- Music – Festivals from Las Vegas to Chicago to Cadott, Wis.

-
- Essay – Zoher Abdoolcarim on Asia’s fixation on political dynasties
  - 10 Questions – Singer Natalie Maines

TIME